Agreeing with what someone has said

没错

Exactly
That's right
indeed

Tone practise – tone one patterns

Practise repeatedly these first tone patterns.

Don't let your voice 'relax' on the last one. The key point is that a high tone is unnaturally high and level – as if you are singing a note. The third tone is very low – almost the the point of your voice cracking. Exaggeration is the way to go.

Watch the two videos I mentioned. Yes, the listening practice one is very long – just do as much as is useful or have it on in the background when you're busy doing other jobs. Some of the vocab isn't very useful, some of the structures are quite challenging but in general it's very useful stuff.
