Different ways to talk about two actions together.

Think about how we can do this in English:

1) Two actions that are done simultaneously

- He was studying while listening to music
- While they were talking they were also drinking coffee

2) Two things together ( a bit vague about when)

- I ate dinner and watched TV
- I play the piano and play the guitar

3) Time + an action in progress

At 9.00	she was watching TV.
At Easter	I'm visiting my family
When she came home	they were sleeping

How might we express these slightly different things in Chinese?

作业

- 1) Think about the different ways of talking about two actions together, on page 8 above
- 2) Try the matching task on the next page (10). You may need to use a dictionary at times – but dictionaries can give you lots of different definitions, so try to minimise its use.
- 3) Practise your writing as we didn't have time for it last lesson
- 4) Blue team next week – JUST ONE simple sentence.
