A very small class again – just 3 people. After checking the 作业 we looked in details at the characters of the 生词 (new vocab) on the previous page.

Then, using deduction, we tried to match the characters to the definitions (see next page).

Finally we did the word-matching revision game which you can find here. If it doesn't display well, try a different browser. I think it works well with Firefox and Chrome but might not work with Explorer.
